CONSOLIDATION PLANS

TROPICO-GLENDALE CAMPAIGN ASSOCIATION TO WORK FOR ANNEXATION

A movement looking to the consolidation of the city of Tropic with the city of Glendale was recently inaugurated by a number of citizens of the former community after a careful investigation of conditions at present existing in Tropic and of conditions as they would exist in the event of consolidation. This action has been hastened because of the fact that certain influences have been at work since the defeat of the movement to consolidate with Los Angeles, to bring about an election to disincorporate the city of Tropic, which condition, in the minds of a great number of the citizens, would be most undesirable. A general discussion of this phase of the situation was indulged in at a meeting of twenty-one prominent men of Tropic which resulted in the appointing of a committee to confer with the Board of Trustees of the city of Glendale with the view of presenting to the voters of Tropic the proposition of consolidating the two city governments. A series of questions were prepared and propounded to the Board and the latter board after due consideration made a detailed reply thereto. After deliberating upon this reply the assemblage formed a permanent organization under the name of the Tropic-Glendale Campaign Association for the purpose as above stated. It is the intention of this body to lay the matter before the people of Tropic in the near future, after which petitions will be circulated for the purpose of calling the election.

Many of the advocates of this movement have on previous occasions most strenuously opposed consolidation with Glendale, but are now of the opinion that Tropic will have everything to gain by such action, and when the personnel in complete form is made public it will disclose a very great number of men and women who have held prominent places in the upbuilding of Tropic. The officers of this association are as follows:

President, Dwight W. Stephenson. Vice-Pres., Norton C. Wells. Secretary, Joe V. Griffin. Treasurer, J. W. Birney. Executive Board: Hartley Shaw, W. G. Black, Frank Ashton, W. J. Hibbert, Owen Rhodes, H. B. Goodrich, C. W. Kimberly.

Headquarters have been opened in the Henry Block on Brand boulevard near Park avenue, and regular meetings will be held on Friday nights. A Ladies' Auxiliary is to be formed among the women of Tropic to aid in carrying out the campaign.

EXEMPTION BOARD

The Exemption Board for the 7th District is examining 130 more men whose order numbers are from 521 to 650 inclusive, also 9 who have been examined before, recalled for further examination, all which takes place in the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, No. 1010 West Broadway. In this connection, Glendadians ought to give a rising vote of thanks to the Exemption Board for kindly examining here the men of Glendale, Tropic, Eagle Rock, Verdugo, Montrose, Burbank and vicinity, who otherwise would have had to go to San Fernando, the official headquarters for the 7th District. It is an accommodation greatly appreciated by those communities so favored. "Who's all right?" The Seventh District Exemption Board, composed of John T. Wilson of San Fernando, F. D. Lanterman of La Canada, and Mattison B. Jones of Glendale.

MEN FOR NAVY NEEDED

UNITED STATES NAVY Recruiting Station, Union Oil Bldg., 7th & Spring Streets, Los Angeles, California, September 8, 1917. The Editor, The News, Glendale, California.

Dear Sir: As there seems to be a general impression throughout this Recruiting District that the complement of the Navy is practically filled and men have little chance to enter the service, I take this opportunity to ask your co-operation and assistance in helping us correct this wrong impression as we now have vacancies for over twenty thousand enlisted men and are especially in need of mechanics, cooks, bakers and musicians, these being among the best paid ratings in the Naval Service.

Any publicity you can give the public on this subject will be greatly appreciated.

Yours respectfully,

WM. R. CUSHMAN, Lieutenant U. S. Navy, Retired, Recruiting Officer.

OPEN AIR CONCERT

PROGRAM DIRECTED BY MRS. DORA L. GIBSON IS GREAT SUCCESS

(By W. L. C.) Mrs. Dora Gibson, Professor of Music at G. U. H. S., made the Saturday night concert a success. She selected a good program, which was well rendered. The children gathered on the front seats certainly did their bit. Why are they more patriotically inclined than their elders? Because they sing more patriotic songs. Any emotion must have expression to be developed, as was demonstrated in City Manager Watson's eloquent address on "Community Singing," which is hereinafter published in full.

Few Glendadians knew that our City Manager is such a pleasing and convincing public speaker. It is very gratifying to the Chamber of Commerce who promoted these open air concerts to have Mr. Watson so ably advocate community singing and a great deal of it.

The need for it was realized at that concert, where so few besides the children could sing even the most popular patriotic songs. Such concerts, with good leaders, will greatly improve Glendale's community singing.

Mrs. Frank Arnold's rendition of "Mother Macree" was fine. Such a song would be much better heard and even more highly appreciated in a hall than amid so many out-door noises. But it was heartily enjoyed and she generously responded.

The accompanying orchestra consisted of Miss Mildred Pray, pianist, Miss Frances Payne, violinist, Mr. Dana Burket, cellist. Mrs. Gibson and Mrs. Gordon led in the singing of "America," "I love you, California," "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," "A Perfect Day," and "The Star-Spangled Banner," all sung standing by patriotic Glendadians.

Mr. Samuel Parker, who suggested these concerts, had a front seat and joyously joined in the community singing. Years may weaken the voice but not the fervor of a true patriot.

Mr. Dwight Stevenson is a gifted young orator who won his audience with the first few sentences. Time and again he was interrupted by enthusiastic applause, which culminated after his closing denunciation of the German Kaiser as the pitiless proposer and prosecutor of the war, whom the United States has undertaken to effectually suppress for the sake of the democracy of nations and the peace of the world.

Speech of City Manager Watson Community Singing

I will not detain you long with what I have to say for I know very well that you all have come out this evening primarily to hear the singing and not to listen to much talk.

When Mrs. Gibson drafted me for service this evening, informing me that I would be expected to speak on the subject of "Community Singing," I told her that I thought it would be more appropriate for me to talk about community taxes. However, she had her way, as women always do, and I am to talk on community singing. These words suggest to our minds many helpful and inspiring thoughts.

What is a community and what are its chief elements? Nature has placed within the circle of these protecting hills as beautiful and charming a valley as ever you will find in all of God's great out-of-doors, but the valley in itself, beautiful as it is, is not the community.

The real estate and homes of this city are valued at upwards of ten million dollars, but that figure does not even approach the real value of this community. We have over fifty miles of improved streets and nearly a quarter of a million dollars invested in our municipal buildings; we have spacious public buildings, schools, churches and beautiful and comfortable homes; but these are not the community. The presence here of ten thousand human beings, animated by the ever-changing impulses of life, is what constitutes this a community. I would not despise the beautiful valley, for to me it is the dearest place in all the world. I would not underestimate the value or the necessity of all this property or of these public buildings and homes; but that thing of pre-eminent value is the human element.

I would not have us spend less time in planning for the development of the material side of our community, but I would urge that more consideration be given to the development of the community life. Let this human element express itself. Let a community spirit be born. Let us nurture and foster that spirit un-

ARGENTINA INCENSED AT SWEDEN

SOUTHERN REPUBLIC AROUSED AND SENSATIONAL DISCLOSURES MAY CAUSE BREAK WITH GERMANY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News) BUENOS AIRES, September 10.—Argentina is highly incensed at Sweden for her part in German intrigues and insulting messages. A break seems imminent. Public indignation runs high and with a few exceptions the press is clamoring for an immediate break with Germany. Luxburg, the offending German, is finding this place too warm for comfort.

U. S. WILL NOT BREAK WITH SWEDEN

AMERICA NOT THE INJURED PARTY IN GERMAN CHARGE'S ACTIVITIES REVEALED IN BUENOS AIRES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News) WASHINGTON, September 10.—The United States government has no intention now of breaking relations with Sweden because of secret communications forwarded to Germany by the Buenos Aires Swedish minister. The United States does not feel the injured party.

PETROGRAD IN STATE OF WAR

KORNILOFF DISMISSED AS COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OF ARMIES WHEN PLOTTING IS REVEALED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News) PETROGRAD, September 10.—Petrograd has been declared in a state of war. Premier Kerensky has issued a proclamation revealing a plot by Gen. Korniloff, commandier-in-chief of the Russian armies, to assume control of the government. Korniloff was immediately dismissed.

"PRESIDENT CAN BRING PEACE"

GERMAN SOCIALIST LEADER SAYS WILSON MUST PROVE HIS FAITH IN THE GERMAN PEOPLE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News) BERLIN, September 10.—President Wilson can bring immediate peace if he proves by acts of faith in the German people what he has expressed in words, German Socialist majority leader Scheidemann said this afternoon. "Germany is pushing irresistibly toward democracy," he said. "It will advance quickly as soon as war obstacles are removed."

SCANDINAVIA MAY ENTER WAR

ENGLAND SEES A POSSIBILITY OF ALL OF NORTHERN PENINSULA BECOMING INVOLVED IN WORLD WAR

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News) LONDON, September 10.—A possibility that all of Scandinavia will become involved in the war is seen in America's revelation of German-Sweden intrigues here. The severing of relations between the Allies and Sweden is regarded as certain in England unless the Swedish government gives a proper explanation of its part in these intrigues and makes an immediate apology.

ANOTHER ARGUMENT FOR SUFFRAGE

WAR REVENUE BILL TAXING INCOMES OF WOMEN WORKERS UNFAIR SAYS MRS. CATT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News) WASHINGTON, September 10.—Suffrage leaders view the passage of the war revenue bill, under which thousands of working women will pay increased income taxes, as one more argument for speedy adoption of the suffrage amendment. "Under the new revenue bill nearly $4,000,000 will be contributed by wage-earning women of the country," said Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National American Woman Suffrage Association to-day. "Unless these women live in the western states, where women vote, they are unrepresented in the national law-making body. Yet if their salary is over $1000 per year, part of their actual living is taken by an act of that body." Mrs. Catt said: "We protest not at women's taxation for war revenue, but for withholding from them any voice in the government they support."

REST STATIONS ON FIRING LINE

AMERICAN RED CROSS IS ESTABLISHING BATHS, LAUNDRIES AND READING ROOMS AT THE FRONT

WASHINGTON, September 10.—To hearten Uncle Sam's boys in France, and give their French comrades a real token of American co-operation, the American Red Cross is establishing canteens and rest stations back of the firing line. Shower baths and laundries will remove the accumulated filth of the trenches. Quiet rest rooms will be provided with plenty of books, magazines, writing materials and games. In many of the stations there will be lunch rooms and dormitories.

INDIVIDUAL APTITUDE IS KEY-NOTE OF TRAINING OFFERED BY G. U. H. S.

The opening session of the high school will come at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning, Tuesday, September 11. All the students will assemble in the auditorium for greetings and to receive information concerning the new courses to be offered. They will then pass to the several rooms where they will register and work out their daily programs.

One of the distinctive characteristics of the school is the consideration it gives to the individual needs of each student. The course of study is broad and contains studies suitable for preparation for the normal school, technical schools and universities, special work in music or art, domestic arts and the shop.

Each student can find in the school the fundamentals for preparation in his chosen life work. Before the close of school last June each student had one or more conferences with the teachers concerning the work he was taking and its suitability for his chosen plans. Where a change seemed advisable, a program was selected for the coming year which would give the desired change.

The education of the individual along the lines of his personal aptitudes will be given still more attention this coming year. This study of one's best vocation will be under the direction of Miss Flood, who is one of the best instructors in the state in this line of work. She has been giving the subject special study for several years and this last year she has been at Columbia University studying under the foremost men of the country. She will give general instruction in the several grades and will also give regular courses in choice of vocation.

The number of foreign languages taught will be increased by the addition of French. This subject will be given by Miss Darsie, who has also been absent on leave at Columbia. She will also give some new work in modern history from the standpoint of industrial development and its effects upon social problems.

An additional teacher, Miss Bernice Wood, has been added in the commercial department to meet the heavy demands of increased enrollment there. One of the new features of the department is a two-hour daily course in shorthand which will fit a student who has a good knowledge of English for difficult office work in one year.

The usual single-period two-year course in shorthand will also be continued. Seven new typewriters have been added to meet the heavy demand for typewriting instruction.

All the work previously given in the several departments will be continued.

No student can take all the subjects offered. Choice must be made of those most fitted to his personal inclinations and plans. The square peg will not fit in the round hole. Parents are asked to give the matter careful thought so that the student's program will be wisely chosen.

Several changes have taken place in the teaching corps. Miss Dorothy Fish and Mrs. Florence Scott were married in June. Miss Holloway, Miss Hanson and Mr. Ferguson were granted leave of absence for a year. Miss Holloway studies in the East. Miss Hanson at Columbia University, and Mr. Ferguson will spend the year in business. Three resignations are due to promotions to better-paying positions elsewhere. Miss Wall is to be the head of the drawing department at San Mateo. Miss Grinnell is head of girls' physical education in Alameda, and Mr. Wight is instructor in the department of physical education at University of California.

The Trustees have found teachers of excellent preparation and splendid personality to fill these vacancies. Mrs. Elizabeth Bement, Miss Mary Beth Abbott, come directly from a year's study at Columbia, Percy Davis from California, and Miss Eleanor Green from University of Southern California. Miss Belle Mattley and Miss Bernice Wood come from Venice High School, Miss Mildred Lantz from Redwood City, and Miss Elizabeth Lorbeer from Huntington Beach. The list of teachers and their subjects are as follows:

Geo. U. Moyse, Principal. Harry L. Howe, Vice-Prin. and U. S. History. Ethel Hume Flood, Latin. Vocational Counselor and Dean of Girls. Mary Beth Abbott, Drawing. Elizabeth H. Bement, Dom. Art., Millinery. Jay N. Clark, Mathematics. Helen M. Darsie, French, History. Percy Davis, Mathematics.

HAPPENINGS IN STATE

WILL ENFORCE NET CONTAINER ACT SAYS STATE SUPER-INTENDENT

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 10.—Short weight and measure in the sale of food products in containers is the result of carelessness, indifference and actual intent to commit fraud, according to Charles G. Johnson, state superintendent of weights and measures, who has started a campaign for the rigid enforcement of the net container act. "The consuming public must be protected in the purchase of food products sold in sealed tin cans, sealed packages, boxes and other containers," says Johnson. "And in order to protect himself against those who criminally disregard the principles of commercial honesty, the housewife must be educated to verify the contents of the containers through the statement of the actual contents indicated on each one." Johnson has instructed all sealers in the state to enforce this law rigidly and in his instructions has this to say: "There is no legislation which is more conducive to the protection of the purchasing power of the dollar than the weights and measures law and their force in this respect is conditioned upon your efficiency and vigilance."

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—No longer will the Saturday night shopper be able to buy meat for the Sunday dinner. The Sunday roast will have to be purchased in the daytime. Under an agreement regarding wages and hours of labor between the butchers and the owners of meat shops, hereafter all shops will close at 7 o'clock Saturday evening.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—John J. Kane was one of the San Franciscans selected to go with the first contingent of drafted men, to Camp Lewis. So, with his friends, he went out to celebrate. When he had celebrated sufficiently he suddenly awakened to the realization that his celebration was over.

MOTOR FROM ILLINOIS

Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Nevins of Peoria, Illinois, are at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Ackley of 210 South Louise street, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ackley, Mrs. A. E. Nevins and Mrs. Viola Poole, relatives of Dr. Nevins.

Dr. and Mrs. Nevins made the trip from Peoria, Ill., in an auto, reaching San Francisco in about fifteen days. Since they have been touring California, visiting points of interest between San Francisco and Los Angeles. They pronounce it a most delightful trip. Dr. and Mrs. Nevins will remain in Glendale a week before starting on the return trip. Dr. Nevins has a large cancer sanitarium in Peoria.

COMMISSION PROMISES HEARING

In reply to a letter written by City Manager Watson and Manager of the Public Service Dept. H. B. Lynch to the State Railroad Commission protesting against the raising of gas rates in violation of a contract between the city of Glendale and The Southern California Gas Co., the following communication has been received.

September 7, 1917.

Mr. T. W. Watson, City Manager, and Mr. H. B. Lynch, Manager Public Service Dept., Glendale, California. Gentlemen:

Upon my return from a week's hearings in Southern California, I find your letter of August 24th on my desk.

Inspection of the official files in Applications 1853 and 1830 and Case 854, which involve the recent fixing of gas rates in Southern California, bears out your statement that the city officials of Glendale were not officially notified of the request by the gas companies to be granted an increase of rates, and to this extent there was probably a technical omission.

Probably it was assumed at the time notices were sent out that the widespread newspaper statements as to the numbers of the hearings and their dates would adequately bring home notice to all concerned.

However, you need feel no concern that the interests of Glendale were jeopardized by a failure to receive notice; because if the city is convinced that the Commission proceeded upon an unsound basis as to fact or theory in fixing gas rates for Glendale, and will file an application setting forth the grounds upon which it bases this contention, a hearing will be given on this application and evidence and arguments will be received.

I remain, Yours respectfully, EDWIN O. EDGERTON, Commissioner.

SOME EASY SAVINGS

That large savings for the cities of California are easily possible through the simple expedient of turning city tax assessing and collecting over to county officers, instead of having this work performed by local officials, is shown by B. V. Garwood, city clerk of South Pasadena, in a letter to the California Taxpayers' Journal.

Mr. Garwood states that South Pasadena for the past four years has entrusted its city assessing and tax collecting to the Los Angeles county officials, with the following results: In the year 1913-14 the amount collected for the city was $66,079.93, and the cost of assessing and collecting was $540.51; in 1914-15 the amount collected was $82,931.19, and the cost was $384.62; in 1915-16 the amount collected was $91,901.08 and the cost $414.58; in 1916-17 the collections were $92,295.57 and the cost $418.19.

According to Mr. Garwood's estimates, the average cost per year, under the local assessing and collecting system, would have been $2,035. Averaging the actual cost as stated above, an annual saving of $1,565.52½ was made. This saving amounted to 79.4 per cent. If this percentage were applied against the total cost of local assessing and collecting reported by 129 cities to the State Controller for the fiscal year 1915-16, it would show a minimum saving of $226,756.68 per year, or, for four years, $907,026.72. If that amount of saving be figured out in better streets, lighting, sanitation or municipal service of any kind it will give the reader a new light on the advantages of eliminating wasteful systems of doing public business.

PRIDE BACK OF RIVALRY BETWEEN MARINES AND SOLDIERS

AMERICAN FIELD HEADQUARTERS, France, Aug. 20 (By Mail)—Way up at the end of this camp, apart from "those army people," are the United States Marines, the fellows who bought $60,000 worth of French war loan just as a starter.

Army fellows have to come up to the Marine camp occasionally to have their teeth fixed or their feet repaired by the Marines' chiropodist. Aside from these few invasions the Marines don't suffer the presence of their ancient rivals.

The chiropodist is a Boston boy who studied foot-culture in Philadelphia and enlisted there when war was declared. His book of operations shows a record of thousands of marching-blisters, hundreds of troublesome corns and a long list of miscellaneous foot troubles cured since the expedition came to France.

With their own headquarters, their own billets, their own instructors and a training-ground all to themselves, the Marines are managing to keep the line drawn between themselves and the Army. They claim their streets are a little cleaner, their manners a little better than those of the Army. And it was sort of a challenge to the fellows in khaki when the Marines pulled off their sudden financial drive with that contribution of gold to the French war funds.

To get to the Marines' camp you pass all along the line of the first contingent. At the roadside you see the lean-to cook-tents, covered with camouflage of paint and leaves to prevent aerial spotting. Cooks are preparing big pans of steak, cauldrons of stew and rows of peach pies for the time when those tiny figures visible on the ridge of the distant hills will form into columns and come trooping back into town with a loud demand for grub and a whole lot of it.

Khaki disappears from view and the grey-green of the Marine corps takes its place in the scheme of the camp when you break into the zone of the soldier-sailors. At the roadside there's a long, low roof, sheltering Marine mules, while over the road hangs an arch with the words "Honor and Glory to the American Soldiers" written in letters of wild-flowers by the French townspeople.

Officers quietly encourage the rivalry between Marines and the Army, partly because of pride in their own arm of the service and partly because they know it's a good thing to have competition between two forces that are nearing perfection in the business of killing Germans.

Just at present the Marines are model boys in caring for their clothing because there's an order out that when the present issue of uniforms is gone the Marines will drop their grey-green and adopt the Army khaki. No Marine wants to wear the Army suit. But the present Marine uniform has long trousers, which won't do for the kind of fighting that goes on in the trenches.

STATE FLOWERS CHOSEN BY MANY COMMONWEALTHS

Thirty-eight states of the union have chosen floral emblems or state flowers. Of these, twenty-five have been formally selected by the state legislatures. Of the thirteen remaining states the floral choice was left either to a vote of the school children or to "common consent." School children chose the emblem in Colorado, Maine, Mississippi, New Mexico, New York, Rhode Island and Wisconsin (in Colorado, in fact, they overruled the state legislature). In Idaho, Iowa, Kentucky, Nevada, North Carolina and Washington the selection was by common consent, mainly under the leadership of club women. The following list of the thirty-eight states and their flowers is published by the National Geographic Magazine.

Arizona—Giant Cactus.
Arkansas—Apple Blossom.
California—Golden Poppy.
Colorado—Blue Columbine.
Connecticut—Mountain Laurel.
Delaware—Peach Blossom.
Florida—Orange Blossom.
Georgia—Cherokee Rose.
Idaho—Syringa.
Illinois—Violet.
Indiana—Carnation.
Iowa—Wild Rose.
Kansas—Sunflower.
Kentucky—Trumpet Vine.
Louisiana—Magnolia.
Maine—Pine Cone and Tassel.
Michigan—Apple Blossom.
Minnesota—Moccasin Flower.
Mississippi—Magnolia.
Montana—Bitter Root.
Nebraska—Golden Rod.
Nevada—Sage Brush.
New Mexico—Cactus.
New York—Rose.
North Carolina—Daisy.
North Dakota—Wild Prairie Rose.
Ohio—Scarlet Carnation.
Oklahoma—Oregon Grape.
Rhode Island—Violet.
South Dakota—Pasque Flower.
Texas—Bluebonnet.
Utah—Sage Lily.
Vermont—Red Clover.

Quiet styles for women will prevail during the winter according to the dictum of a convention of modistes now in session in Chicago. Guess the public will agree as it is generally conceded that the styles have been shouting long enough.

"Johnny, you're a naughty boy. You can go to bed without any supper."

"Well, mother, what about that medicine I've got to take after meals?"

JUDICIAL ADVANTAGES

PUBLICITY

Said Mrs. Duck to Mrs. Cluck, "I wish you'd tell me why that any day you chance to lay, there goes a hue and cry, and every fowl sets up a howl that reaches to the sky?"

"My eggs are twice as big and nice, and yet I blush to know were I to lay a peck a day, the price would still be low; and not a drake would action take, and not a cock would crow."

Said Mrs. Cluck to Mrs. Duck, "Your modesty's to blame; 'Tis always I, that starts the cry, and you must do the same. Who never dares to 'honk' his wares must play a losing game."

"If you'll go back and loudly quack when you have fruit on hand, your kith and kin will waddle in and bray to best the best, and in a trice you'll raise the price of ducks in every land."

A homely speech, but it should teach one secret of success. The duck, or hen, or race of men who reach the top, I guess, will have to own a megaphone, like-wise a printing press.

Personals

Miss Gladys Lampert, 306 West Fifth street, will attend U. S. C. the coming year.

Mrs. Ida M. Smith, 332 North Louise street, was the guest of friends in Los Angeles, Sunday.

Mrs. C. R. Lusby and son Donald are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wilson, at Riverside.

Ed. M. Lee and family are expected home to-day from an extended motor trip in the North.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Roberts of 707 West Seventh street are spending the week-end at Long Beach.

The Y. P. B. will meet with Mrs. G. H. Rowe, 516 Orange street, Tuesday, September 11, at 7:30 p. m.

Lister Silva, who has been residing at 628 North Louise street, has removed to 1543 West First street, where he has purchased a home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Courtney, 517 Orange street, left Monday morning for Big Bear Valley on a two weeks' camping trip.

Mrs. Wm. F. Bixby of 1417 Curson avenue, Hollywood, was an over Sunday guest at the A. T. Cowan home, 114 Orange.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cohn and little daughter Elsa, of 116 Orange street, return to-day from Santa Monica, where they have been spending several days.

Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Flint and son Rinard left last week for Las Vegas, N. M., to visit his mother. Before returning he will go to Rochester, Minn.

Mrs. Jessie Cummings and children, Harold, Marion and Stanley, have returned to their home, 124 Orange street, from Artesia, where they had been spending a week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Buchanan, son Robert and daughter Helene, of 204 Orange street, returned the latter part of the week from Catalina, where they had been for ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Nelson with their children, Edith May and Herman, and Mrs. Nelson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hinkley of Los Angeles, motored down to San Diego on Friday for the week-end.

Miss Elizabeth B. Paul returned Thursday from San Luis Obispo, where she has been visiting her sister for the past three weeks. Miss Paul reports a most delightful time which was largely spent in motoring, visiting interesting places and enjoying the rugged coast scenery.

C. A. Nagle, cashier of the Southern California Gas Co., accompanied by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Nagle of Hollywood, has just returned from a delightful motor trip, going as far north as San Francisco. The party visited the Yosemite and was gone about two weeks on the trip.

Gilbert Cowan, who is employed as city reporter on the Morning Echo at Bakersfield, was in Glendale Sunday, visiting his parents. He made the trip in an auto with Mr. and Mrs. Willamen and their friend, Mrs. Jarvis, who visited relatives in Los Angeles until Monday morning, when all returned to Bakersfield. Mr. Willamen is employed as city editor on the Morning Echo.

The Intermediate Department of the First Methodist Church enjoyed an old-fashioned hayride to Brookside Park Saturday afternoon. It was a genuine wagon, drawn by five genuine horses. Time being no object, about four hours were consumed going and coming, the crowd not arriving home until 10 o'clock. Swimming, tennis and all the amusements the park affords were indulged in, and a "wienie bake" was not the least of the enjoyments. This department is under the efficient leadership of L. C. Leeds. About twenty members of the department enjoyed the outing.

G. A. Mangum, 1516 Patterson avenue, spent last week in Long Beach on business.

Will pay 10 cents for copy of Evening News of July 13. Must be in good condition. Evenings News office.

Miss Lucile Spencer, 1537 West Broadway, left to-day over the Salt Lake for a three weeks' vacation. She will visit friends in Denver, Pueblo, Cripple Creek and Montrose, Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Gist, who have been residing at 1425 Pioneer drive, with Mrs. E. C. Coles and Miss Roberta and Lynn Coles, are removing to Los Angeles, where they will be at home to their friends at 1834 Cimmaron street.

Stanley R. Frentz and daughters, Miss Cora and Miss Meryl Frentz, of 500 Orange street, have returned from Coronado, where they have been for the past three months. They report a very delightful time as there were a number of Glendale people there, who united in a number of good times together, boating, swimming, motoring and all the amusements of a summer resort.

BILLY SUNDAY IN GLENDALE?

No, but next to Mr. Sunday, the great attraction is Miss Grace Saxe, the Bible teacher who is to give six popular addresses in Glendale at the First M. E. church, beginning next Wednesday evening at 7:45, and every Wednesday evening thereafter.

There is no woman in the world who has inspired so many people to read and study the Bible as Miss Saxe. The general public is full and freely invited.

These meetings are union meetings of all the churches and a distinct part of the Billy Sunday campaign.

COMPETENT PUBLIC STENOGRAPHER

Glendale seems to be in need of a competent public stenographer. There are calls daily at the Evening News office for some one to do typewriting work, and we are unable to refer them to any one able and willing to do work of this kind.

bration was too protracted—that he should, at that moment, be at American Lake. So he walked over to the Park Police station and gave himself up. Kane also told the officers that while he was celebrating he had made stump speeches declaring he had a mother to support and he should have been exempted. With regard to the speeches, he impressed upon the officers that now the celebration was over he didn't mean a word of it. He's on his way to the camp.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 10.—Means of increasing the California food production and the establishment of additional farm bureaus in California counties were the subjects discussed to-day at the opening session of the California agricultural conference. At the call of Governor Stephens, members of the Council of Defense, farm bureau directors, farm advisers, members of county boards of supervisors, members of county defense councils and representatives of the agricultural interests generally are attending the conference. Dean Hunt of the agricultural department of the University of California, B. H. Crocherson, state leader of farm advisers, and other University of California agricultural experts are taking part in the discussions.

SACRAMENTO, September 10.—Over a score of parlors of the Native Sons and Native Daughters, from various parts of the state, entered floats in the Admission Day parade held here to-day in connection with the closing of the three day Admission Day celebration. The Admission Day celebration, together with the State fair's usual attractions, drew a record crowd to Sacramento to-day.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—Fourteen men from Siskiyou county left to-day for the American Lake cantonment camp—the last of California's first quota of 1212 men to entrain. Yesterday 182 men started for the camp. The next movement of men drafted for the national army will begin about September 17.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—There are sufficient numbers of workers in the southern California sugar beet fields and the state council of defense disapproves of any efforts to flood the labor market for the purpose of reducing or holding down wages. Statement to that effect was issued to-day following receipt of a complaint from the Arizona state council of defense that southern California sugar beet growers and refiners "are disturbing the acute labor situation in Arizona by offering extra inducements to Mexican laborers to leave their places and go to California to take the places of striking beetfield workers there. Replying to the Arizona council the California body voiced its disapproval of the methods complained of. The Council also has issued official denial of statements that it had ordered the arrest of all unemployed laborers in Los Angeles—giving them the alternative of accepting work as strike-breakers or going to jail.

SUNDAY EVENING SERMON OF REV. C. A. COLE, PASTOR OF CENT. CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Text: "For the preaching of the cross is to them that perish, foolishness. . . . Unto the Jews a stumbling block and unto the Greeks foolishness." (1 Cor. 1:23.)

To the man who is in the wrong all things appear wrong. The drunkard imagines himself in a drunken world, the sharper in a world of cheats, the liar in a world of deceit, etc.

We can easily believe the Devil finds all places hell, as Milton said. So also the man who is out of accord with God's Word and the Church, lays at their doors all his failings. There are plenty left in the Anvil Chorus to sing all four parts. To the Jews Christianity seemed a stumbling block, because they were stumbling blocks themselves. Every great leader among them found himself impeded and hindered. The anger of Moses, the meekest of men, waxed hot against them more than once. Judges, prophets, priests and kings all bewailed the stubbornness of the people.

To the Greeks, Christianity seemed foolishness because of their own folly. A people that live for worldly pleasures and selfish ends could not be expected to see the wisdom of higher things. Fools become so infatuated with their folly that it seems real wisdom to them and real wisdom seems folly.

Behold the frailties of man when he tries to measure up to the wisdom of God! How puny and impotent he is in the light of God's omnipotence.

When we know that so far as redeeming men, all human wisdom and power have failed, utterly; that all philosophy and human ingenuity have been proven absolutely powerless to regenerate, why will some to-day laugh at the Cross and refuse to acknowledge the Christ of Calvary?

For 2000 years the crucified Christ has been the key which has unlocked the mystery of salvation and poured out upon mankind happiness and peace. No other remedy for sin has ever availed, nor can it. Yet men seeing and knowing this to be true, reject.

Men want a sign. Something to startle and dazzle. Catholics will go hundreds of miles to gaze with devout reverence on the curdled blood of Januarius turning liquid before their eyes; to touch with awe the relics of some saint, believing this will cure. Protestants will disdain this—but will run after the man who is an adept in oratory, or in the fine art of posing as a Solomon, or who knows the day the world will come to an end, or who is cocksure that every one will have another chance to be saved. Whatever is novel or romantic or enticing or popular is sure to find sign seekers among its supporters.

To this class the Cross of Christ is still a stumbling block. For it speaks of humiliation, of obedience unto death, of a quiet, unassuming "doing His will." This is distasteful. To go with Jesus among the lowly, to the sick, into the Garden, etc.—to bear the Cross, that is too humble, too plain, too unassuming; that is not the SIGN we are looking for.

The Greeks seek after wisdom. The idea of a crucified Christ was folly; to preach salvation by a Cross the sheerest absurdity. Think of such a thing!

There are Greeks to-day in our modern life. They glory in intellect, superior learning. Laugh long and loud at the idea of the miracles. Sneer at the theology of blood. Set up their minds as capable of solving all mystery. The theology of the head—big head.

I have heard of folks who have had more regard for the mental grasp of the preacher, the literary finish of his "discourse" and the manner in which he delivered it, than to Scriptural, simple preaching of the Cross. God forbid that we should glory in anything save the Cross. "When once the idolatry of talent enters a church, then farewell spirituality; when men ask their teachers, not for that which makes them more humble and Godlike but for the excitement of an intellectual banquet, then farewell Christian progress."

Ah, my friends, "in the wisdom of God, the world through its wisdom knew not God." Men perish as they speculate; men die as they frame theories.

Human nature does not change. Those who pick flaws in the Christian church to-day betray their own weakness as surely as the ancient Jews and Greeks did. The man who finds the Church cold to strangers is the one who himself holds aloof; the man who finds the Church narrow is the one whose views are too narrow to recognize any opinion but his own. In this truth should lie a great comfort to the earnest man who is apt to worry. Christianity will always seem foolish to the fools, bigoted to the bigots, hypocritical to the hypocrites, and so on through the long list of complaining and fault-finding epithets. "To such as are saved, it is the power of God!"

"Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this world? hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world?" What has become of the wisdom of the Egyptians, the Persians, the Greeks, the Romans? With all their great learning, etc., where are they when compared with Christianity?

Where are the Scribes and Pharisees? What has become of the teachings of the priests, of Plato and Socrates? Where is the power of Caesar and Nero and Trajan, mighty men? They thought they killed God and spilled Christ out of history. Made bonfires of his adherents. Wild beasts. As the fires leaped and the beasts clawed and tore, they laughed at God and drank bowls of martyrs' blood. Where is their power to-day? "The weakness of God is stronger than men."

It's a serious thing to deny Christ; to ridicule his humiliation and suffering. Rather ought we to go out over the world and shout his praises.

You have not looked upon Christianity as meaningless. You would not laugh at the Cross; it may not be a stumbling block. But whatever your attitude or belief, it counts for little when you do not show it to the world. There may be depths to which you have not gone in your study of the Cross; there may be things you cannot fathom, for no man can read the mind of God. But he has offered you salvation in His Son. He has ordained that we shall be saved through the Gospel. "God chose the foolish things of the world that he might put to shame them that are wise, and the weak things of the world to confound the things which are mighty, that no flesh should glory in His presence."

You will not know God by reason, nor through nature nor by intuition, but by obeying Him. He that doeth the will shall know of the doctrine.

You shall know His love when you shall have died with Him, when you have died to sin. See how he suffered ON THE CROSS for you.

DEVELOP VOICE POWER

The Plattsburg camp has not lacked muscle power and brain-power, but it has lacked voice power. And voice power just now is all important. It is one of the great fundamental equipments for command. It will determine in the long run the assignment of many new officers. Without it a man is next to useless in command of line troops, the more so now that the fighting units have grown so in size, and with the prospect that they are still likely to grow.

In the West Point vernacular the giving of commands is called "sounding off." It is the nearest possible attainment to the magic of brass music from which, of course, the term is derived. Your football quarterback has it, your crew coxswain has it, your effective coach in any branch of sport has it, and the ideal army officer has it.

We know, of course, that in actual combat the whistle and other forms of communication will be paramount, but the fact remains that this all important voice power will have served for the process of building the new army and that the character behind that voice power will go echoing on even when there is no further possibility of direct voice command. So this development of voice power is the salient feature of this stage of the training at Plattsburg.—Herbert Reed in New York Independent.

CELERITY AND COMPETENCE

General Goethals' picturesque but unhappy statement that "birds are still nesting in the trees out of which the wooden ships are to be built," has received a remarkable commentary in the record achieved in the construction of the military cantonments.

Fairfax Harrison, chairman of the railroads' war board, has drawn attention to the fact that within five days trees growing in the Mississippi forests have been transformed into lumber and laid down at Louisville for the use of the army engineers. Trees felled on Saturday were kiln-dried on Sunday, loaded on Monday and actually delivered at the Kentucky camp on the following Wednesday. This unquestionably is a record in which both the lumber companies and the railroads may take a reasonable pride. That it is not exceptional is revealed by the fact that within thirty days of the time the first order was placed 12,000 carloads of lumber arrived at the training places for the national army.

In this mobilization which necessitates the transmuting of the most peaceful of the great nations into an armed camp there have undoubtedly been some hesitation and blundering. But upon the whole an unprecedented task is being accomplished with marvelous celerity and competence.—Chicago Herald.

TACTLESS

"Is Mr. Flubdub busy?" asked the diffident customer.

"Mr. Flubdub is always busy," replied the pompous attendant.

"Well, let him stay busy." And that's how Mr. Flubdub lost a big order.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A COMMON TYPE

"Dubwaite is what I would call a limited humanitarian."

"In what respect?"

"The wrongs of humanity in general work him up to a frenzy, but the individual cases merely bore him."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

HE DIDN'T KNOW MARY ANN

"Keep moving, keep moving," urged a downtown policeman in an effort to clear the sidewalk.

A countryman appealed to him in despair.

"I've lost my wife," he said. "Well, get another one," replied the policeman laconically.

The countryman shook his head.

"You don't know Mary Ann," he answered.—Indianapolis News.

SUNLAND

Miss Elizabeth Booth of Santa Barbara spent Labor Day with her aunt, Mrs. Lancaster.

Mrs. Akens invited the ladies of the Red Cross to her home under the oaks Tuesday and served them with delicious watermelons grown on their ranch up in Big Tujunga canyon.

Mrs. Mennillo and daughter, of Los Angeles, have moved to Sunland and are occupying the Blumfield cottage.

Mrs. F. Herron is at the bedside of her brother in Glendale, who is expected to pass away soon.

The hunting season opened up with a boom in Sunland and Monte Vista Valley. The hunting is unusually good this year. The hotel was full the night of the 31st with hunters wishing to be the first to get out at daybreak when the season opened.

The Ladies' Aid of the First Baptist church will meet at the room in the postoffice building Thursday afternoon, September 13. Business meeting. A full attendance is desired.

The trustees are repairing the old school building and trying to make room for the many new pupils.

The young people who were working at the cannery and dryer in Lankershim quit work Wednesday to get ready for school.

Miss Florence Abrams is visiting in Sunland.

Mr. and Mrs. Donahue returned to their home in Los Angeles after a week's outing under the oaks of Sunland.

The pulpit at the First Baptist church is being supplied during the pastor's absence. Mr. Moody of San Gabriel preached a very interesting sermon last Sunday. The Christian Endeavor have charge of the evening services. Everybody invited.

John Johnson of Piru is looking after his interests in Sunland this week.

It looks as if we were to have a fence around the park as a large pile of iron fencing is being delivered in the park.

Mr. Alfred Adams, Jr., raised some beautiful tomatoes on his ranch. He has enough to supply the valley. This shows what can be done by push and energy. We need a cannery in Sunland to take care of the extra fruit that goes to waste in the big orchards.

Quite a lively blaze started on Mr. C. B. Johnson's ranch up the Big Tujunga Tuesday, supposedly from a cigarette or match carelessly thrown down. But the quick work of the Sunland men and boys soon had it under control, every available man being called out.

Some boys who thought they were "hunters" shot and killed Mrs. Wm. Blumfield's pet cat as it was crossing the road Monday. Such boys, with no respect for the rights of others, should not be allowed to carry a gun.

News of the Sunland Boys in the Army and Navy

Robert Rowley, sophomore of Throop, and Donald Cowlin, graduate of Glendale High School, met in an eastern city a few days ago.

Chancellor Livingston, former athlete of Glendale High, of Hill street, Sunland, was to have been of the party, but his ship sailed a few hours too soon. Donald's chevrons showed a rapid rise toward the top in the naval hospital corps.

Chancellor, his medals won in intership contests showing he is still our fleet "Fuzzy" as of yore, is in line for his goal of chief engineer.

HURRAH! RINGLING DAY HERE

Big Circus and Great Spectacle Occupy Five Trains Crammed With Wonders

The big event for which the youngsters and grownups have been impatiently waiting is here, for on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, September 10, 11 and 12, Ringling Brothers' circus is to exhibit afternoon and night in Los Angeles. Expectancy never ran so high before and it is likely that this district will send a large delegation to feed the elephants. Unusual interest centers around the gigantic spectacle, "Cinderella," with which the famous showmen are this season opening their wonderful main tent program. "Cinderella" is probably the best loved of all fairy tales and to see it produced with more than 1000 persons, hundreds of dancing girls and glorious pageants, indeed gives promise of making "childhood's golden dreams come true." In the same great tent will come the marvelous circus numbers in which 400 men and women performers, scores of trained animals and a galaxy of special features are introduced. The majority of the acts are entirely new to America, the Ringling Bros. having secured the pick of all European performers who have been obliged to seek engagements in this country. The all-new street parade will take place show day morning.

til it shall grow and develop into a beautiful and stalwart stature, symbolizing at once unity, strength and beauty. We are thrilled with the majestic harmony and melody of grand opera. The spirit of patriotism is born anew within us when we listen to the martial notes of the fife and drum. Our breaking hearts are soothed and healed by the soft and sympathetic strains of the funeral hymn. In church, we lift our hearts and voices in anthems of praise and devotion to our Maker. Why do we not engage the all-compelling power of song in developing the spirit and inspiring the ideals and aspirations of our community life?

Deep in the hearts of men our Maker has placed the highest thoughts and aspirations. To live these thoughts and aspirations must have expression. Music has ever been used to give life to the loftiest thoughts expressed in human language.

Community singing has more than a recreation value. It makes for basic co-operation, the real key to the solution of most social and political problems.

We occasionally come together on public occasions and the formal programs rendered at such times are always uplifting and inspiring. Nothing is so striking on such occasions, however, as the total lack of any means of spontaneously expressing that which lives within the consciousness of all—that which to live must spring forth in some form of personal expression. A great deal of power for good is lost upon these occasions by the lack of some active expression on the part of everyone, such as singing would provide.

Community singing is of inestimable value in breaking down artificial barriers and in harmonizing discordant elements—let us as a community get together often and sing songs and hymns, simple in melody and harmony, and let the words be the expression of our souls.

The good book says that no man liveth to himself. That is a fact that we cannot get away from. In this day and age, no man can separate himself from the community life, because we have such a large portion of our business, social and religious life in common.

When we first came to this valley there was no community. And what were the conditions? We had to depend upon the resources of the individual family establishment for all of our utility conveniences or, I should say, our inconveniences. We had our own lighting system—it consisted of a few coal oil lamps. We had our own water system—it consisted of an old horse, a sled, a barrel. We had our own transportation system—it consisted of two fairly good horses, several wagons, some with springs and others without. We needed no traffic cop in those days as eight miles per hour was our maximum speed under favorable conditions. We traveled over dusty roads in summer and on muddy roads in winter. There was one school for the whole valley—one teacher taught all the scholars in all the grades.

If you have in your minds contrasted what I have just said with present conditions, then I have said enough to illustrate the point I want to make; that is: that we are enjoying every day, benefits of community life which we accept as matters of course without a thought of the community which makes all of these conveniences possible.

Let us get into that democratic spirit that should animate all of our community life.

Music and democracy should be intimate friends. The gathering together often of the people for community singing will foster and develop that community spirit so necessary to the fullest realization of all the benefits and privileges of modern community life.

Community singing is sounding the patriotic keynote all over America to-day. It is tuning the heart of the people to self-sacrifice and devotion to our country. The "Battle Hymn of the Republic" is being written to-day in the heart of every nation. "America" and the "Star-Spangled Banner" evoke emotions of pure and undefiled patriotism never possible during the Civil War, for now all our forty-eight states can sing as with one voice. Patriotic songs are sung in religious meetings and praises to God and country are announced from every pulpit. Let us take advantage of the spirit of the day and employ the power of song to develop community patriotism.

The next open air concert will be under the management of the choir of the First M. E. Church of Glendale, and the pastor, Rev. Snudden, will give a short talk on co-operation.
